Repositioning your patient on a regular basis is proven to prevent pressure ulcers. Turning schedules are a helpful tool for success.